Evangelist Preaches Powerful Sermon on "Ancient and Modern Lepers"—Stereopticon Slides Shown.

This makes a total of 852. Dr. Scoville, the evangelist, believes that the 1,000 mark will be reached not later than tomorrow night. Personal workers in the local and surrounding churches are making an extended canvass for converts.

"Give us a thousand consecrations—a thousand workers, and we will have a thousand converts," declared Dr. Scoville.

Sermon Sinks Deep.

The sermon sank deep into the hearts of many, as was evidenced by the atmosphere while the invitation was in progress. A large number of those who went forward last night were either persons who had drifted away from the churches or were new converts. There were few reconsecrations.

Many pathetic scenes were witnessed. An old man leaning heavily on the arm of an usher admitted that he had backslidden and said he wanted to get right with God before he dies. Many wiped away tears as they saw him go forward.

A young girl, crying bitterly, seized the evangelist's outstretched hand. She had drifted away from the church and wanted to return.

Much comment was caused by the fact that a wealthy, well known resident of the county, 63 years old, made his first start. The evangelist was greatly pleased.

Personal Workers Successful.

Crowds of curious stood around the inside of the tent craning their necks to see who went forward, but through it all there were only one or two cases where personal workers were met with other than kind words in response to their invitations to "line up" for Christ.

A decided feature was the number of singers who left their places in the choir and went out into the audience after friends and relatives. A State Normal girl slipped quietly out and in a few minutes with an arm around a weeping but happy chum went to the front.

Dr. Scoville is not using the excitement that characterizes so many campaigns and this fact is creating much favorable comment among local boosters of the revival. Too often persons are excited to the breaking point, it is said, and the results are apt to be bad.

Scores Modern Lepers.

Dr. Scoville walloped sin and particularly those persons who are modern moral lepers. He declared that modern leprosy is prevalent but that the only difference between the leper here and in Asia is that the Asiatic leper must cry out, "Unclean!"

"Some of you go to some of these other cities and when you return you should be forced to call out "Unclean!" he snapped. "Some of you are unfit to touch decent, respectable folks."

Dr. Scoville took the text from the story of Naaman, commander of the Assyrian army. Naaman was afflicted with leprosy and to be cured God told him he must dip seven times in the River Jordan. Naaman at first refused and came near dying, but was healed when he did God's will.

The evangelist called him "Major General Naaman." "Why, he expected Elijah to meet him with outstretched hand and say, "Hello, old top, how goes it?' when he was a leper, but Elijah didn't do it," said the evangelist as he told the story. The crowd laughed.

Acts Story of Naaman.

The real surprise came, however, when, to show how Naaman started out with ten changes of clothing, the evangelist ran up into the choir loft and took ten coats away from the singers. Then with a chair swung over his back, another held in front of him and the coats under his arms he marched around the platform picturing Naaman. The crowd enjoyed the evangelist's acting and listened intently as he drove home his points that man should throw away everything of worldliness and listen to God's will.

"Excuse my back, please," he said at another time, as he went racing around the pulpit telling how somebody went around Jericho.

Tells of Brother's Death.

The audience laughed and listened, then near the close every eye in the house was dampened when the evangelist told of the death of his Christian brother, George Scoville, who led him to Christ.

"George said the Lord's prayer as he crawled across the railroad tracks so badly scalded that the flesh dropped from him," said the evangelist, his powerful physique shaking with his own grief as he recalled the memories of the loved one. It paid for him to be a Christian.

"You may think you are all right, my friend, but unless you are right with the Master you are lost. Sooner or later your sins will find you out. Remember, though, that God can take away all sin, if you will do his will. Naaman was cured because he finally bowed before God."

The evangelist took a side slap at Christian Science, scored gossipers until the crowd applauded again and again. Everybody laughed as the evangelist like a comedian pictured how two old women, with aprons over their heads, stand at the back fences and talk "thus and thus" and create "fuss and fuss."

A storm of applause greeted him when he said during his sermon.

"Europe will be better off when the Prince of Peace and not emperors, kings and kaisers are allowed to rule."

Singing Great Last Night.

The singing was great last night, according to Musical Director Forsythe.

Scoville Sayings

Some of you ought to be compelled to call out "Unclean!" after you return from St. Joseph, Kansas City, St. Louis, Omaha or some other place.

The man who curses and swears will have defeat with God.

Get right with every one, particularly the master, and if you get right with him you will get right with everybody.

Accept God or go to hell.

Most gamblers come from rich families because the rich teach their kids to gamble at home.

There are three ways you are found out in your sins. You can't fool God, you can't fool yourself and sooner or later truth will out.

I would rather live with 17,944,965 pole cats than to live with a gossiping woman.

Some of you go round like you had busted your diaphragms and had them tied up with strings.

MR. COX TO RETURN

UNANIMOUS VOTE AT CONFERENCE ALMOST SETTLES MATTER

CHURCH REPORT GIVEN

All Benevolences and Current Expenses Met Without Special Collection Unprecedented in Church.

At the fourth quarterly conference of the First Methodist church a unanimous vote was made in favor of the return of Rev. Gilbert S. Cox to Maryville. The request for his return has been sent to the Missouri conference of the Methodist Episcopal church being held at Kirksville this week. The Rev. W. F. Burris, district superintendent, says that he has little doubt but that Rev. Cox will be returned to Maryville.

The reports of the different departments at the meeting last night show that all the benevolences and current expenses have been met without special collection. This is something that has not happened for a long time.

Membership of the church, 692.

Membership of the Sunday school, 586.

Number of officers and teachers in the Sunday school, 56.

Average attendance at Sunday school, 316.

Balance on hand in the Sunday school treasury, $166.53.

Balance on hand in the church fund, $1,293.65.

Membership of the Women's Home Missionary society, 38.

Amount paid out by the W. H. M. S. for field work and other expenses, $157.50.

Mr. Cox left this morning for Kirksville to attend the confernce.

322 ENROLLED AT NORMAL

An Increase of 24 Over the Same Quarter Last Year.

At assembly this morning President Richardson announced that there would probably be a change in the classification of students soon.

Under the old classification the college classes were known as junior and senior. Since there are now in school eighteen candidates for the degree of B. S. in education, the classification must necessarily change. This will give the students the regular college classification of freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors. This will put more spirit into the school, as the select can compare themselves with the green freshmen whom the grass grows round and round. Of course there will be no hazing of the freshies as far as we know, except by and under the direction of Coach Palfreyman, but the looks of upperclassmen will be of the belittling and dominating order.

The paid enrollment at the Farmers Trust Co. this noon was 322. The fall enrollment last year was 257. This gives an increase of 24 over the same quarter last year. President Richardson is counting on a fall term enrollment of 335, which will give an increase of 30 per cnt over the same quarter last year. This would be the same rate of increase as that of last summer over the previous summer.

LONGSHOREMEN MAY STRIKE.

75,000 Give Vote to Support Unionists In Their Demands.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 19.—The menace of a nation-wide longshoremen's strike loomed large today as a result of a vote of support given union laborers in their efforts to persuade the Atlantic Coast members not to handle the vessels loaded by non-unionists. There are about 75,000 longshoremen in this country.

The Yeomen Lodge will Discontinue their Meetings until after the close of the revival.

H.S. SENIORS ELECT

WOODWARD AND GLASS HEAD TWO LAST-YEAR DIVISIONS.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR YEAR

The two Senior classes of the High School held their first meetings of the year yesterday afternoon. The beginning Seniors elected officers and organized for the coming year. After a hot contest Russell Woodward was elected president. There were seven other candidates for the office. Marie Landfather was elected vice-president, Ernest Alexander treasurer, and Alma Mahoney, secretary. No further business was transacted.

The advanced Seniors held a "get-together" meeting and discussed plans for the year. Outside of the appointment of committees, no real work was done. Class pins or rings, announcements and invitations will be chosen soon. Committees will get to work at once on plans for the Senior party, assembly programs, and other "stunts."

The officers of the advanced Senior class are: president, Claud Glass; vice-president, Mildred Bellows; treasurer, Ernest Daniels; and secretary, Greta Kemp. The other members are: Cecile Fraser, Laura Curfman, Faye Herndon, Faye Myers, Esther Dietz, Clara Wray; Henry Sawyers, Craig Tinney, Euel Ramsey, Gerald Whaley and William Van Cleve.

The first football practice was held yesterday after school. Several new men reported who showed promise. Enthusiasm is increasing and several more will come out tonight. The suits have been ordered and with what some of the men already have will be enough to fit out two teams. Principal Magee assisted Coach Schultz in the practice. The schedule has not yet been definitely arranged but there will be strong opposition and football fans of Maryville will see a classy brand of football.

HALE'S FAREWELL SERMON

Will Be Given at Baptist Church at Sunday School Hour Next Sunday.

The Rev. L. M. Hale, who has resigned as pastor of the First Baptist church of this city to accept the pastorate of the Delmar Avenue Baptist church of St. Louis, will preach his farewell sermon at the Sunday school hour at that church Sunday morning. The Rev. Mr. Hale said this would not be his farewell sermon in the sense that it would be his last one here, as he intends to visit Maryville several times in the years to come.

The Rev. Mr. Hale takes his pastorate at St. Louis on October 1, and will leave Maryville next week.

The pulpit committee of the church is composed of C. L. Gann as chairman, Ray Davis as secretary, G. B. Holmes, Capt. Charles Hyslop and William Everhart.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Sept. 19.—The state department has been informed that Villa is planning to follow closely behind Pershing's forces when they are withdrawn, seizing all territory vacated by the American troops. This information was immediately forwarded to the American members of the joint commission in session at New London for guidance when negotiating for the withdrawal of Pershing.

El Paso, Sept. 19.—The unusual military activity at Juarez today created the belief here that the Carranza officials had been warned to beware of the Villistas, who are reported to be advancing northward from the vicinity of Chihuahu City. OAKERSON MAY SUCCEED GASS

STATE COMMITTEE TO SELECT THE NOMINEE

Will Hold Meeting in St. Louis Tomorrow—Member G. R. Ellison Will Attend.

Howard A. Gass, state superintendent of public schools, died at 8:20 o'clock yesterday evening at his residence in Jefferson City, after an illness of six weeks. He had been in bad health the last six months, but was able to attend to his duties at his office until about the middle of August.

Mr. Gass was elected for a term expiring January 1, 1919. The general opinion is that Governor Major will appoint someone to fill the vacancy for the present time and that a new superintendent will be elected at the coming election in November to fill out the unexpired term. Both Democratic and Republican state committees will select their party candidate for this position, and the choice will be the result of popular vote at the general election.

Oakerson May Be Chosen.

W. M. Oakerson, formerly county superintendent of schools of Nodaway county, an dnow chief clerk in the state Department of Education, will probably be selected. Mr. Oakerson's friends are making an effort to get Governor Major to appoint him and to get the Democratic State Committee to select him as the Democratic candidate for this place.

A meeting of the Democratic State Committee is to be held in St. Louis tomorrow. The selection will probably be made at this meeting. George Robb Ellison, member of the committee for this district, left today to attend the meeting. Mr. Ellison is using what influence he has on the state committee to get Mr. Oakerson nominated for this position.

Would Help Normal Here.

By virtue of being county superintendent of schools, Mr. Oakerson would be a member of the board of members of all the Normal schools of the state. It would mean much to the State Normal School here to have Mr. Oakerson chosen.

Nodaway county as well as the Northwest part of this state would certainly like to see Mr. Oakerson selected. He has probably done more for the schools of this part of the state than any other man.

To Hold Funeral Wednesday.

The funeral of Mr. Gass will be at the family home in Jefferson City Wednesday afternoon. Services will be under the auspices of the Masonic order. Burial will be in Riverview cemetery.

Mr. Gass was well known in Maryville having frequently attended the meetings of the board of regents of the State Normal School here. He also gave addresses at many educational meetings in Maryville.

LAMM'S ASTOUNDING MISREPRESENTATIONS.

Former Supreme Judge Lamm, now Candidate Lamm of the G. O. P., is "100 per cent a candidate." We know he is, for he has thrown overboard both his knowledge of the law and his sense of the elementary decencies of debate.

In his Springfield address he attacked the Gardner Land Bank act, tooth and nail, in a manner characteristic of his party, whose leadership not only has no constructive ideas of its own, but takes it as a personal insult that anybody else has. In the course of his address he said:

"In considering the need of care in drafting the bill it must be remembered that when the constitution has been amended by validating the bill, the bill itself can never thereafter be amended to cover its defects by any new act of the legislature. (Quoted from Globe-Democrat, September 12, p. 6.)"

This declaration came from a former chief justice of Missouri. No wonder it was accepted without question by the local Republican party organ, which, dutifully responding from the other end of the Republican sanctuary, declared editorially in yesterday's issue that "we are asked to adopt as a part of the organic law of Missouri a crude, clumsily written piece of experimental legislation, which the general assembly cannot correct."

We beg to subject, in rejoinder, the language of the constitutional amendment:

"Section 1. The general assembly is hereby empowered to enact a special law to create a corporation to be known as the Missouri State Land Bank, with power to make loans on notes secured by deeds of trust or mortgages upon agricultural lands and to issue debenture bonds against the same with all suitable and incidental powers. And to enact other special laws at the same session or at other sessions of the general assembly to amend and improve the said act, or to supply omissions or correct defects therein."

What does Judge Lamm mean by telling the people of Missouri that the Gardner Land Bank act would be beyond reach of amendment under the proposed constitutional provision, when the language of the latter expressly provides for amendments, improvements and the correction of defects? This is the most amazing piece of candidatial effrontery we recall in the history of the state.

The Republic is not worried over the fact that as the candidate of the Republican party for governor, Judge Lamm owes that organization an apology for this astounding misrepresentation or that he also owes one to the newspaper which he has duped. Nor are we specially concerned over the affront which such misstatement involves to the general public which has so signally honored him. This last for the reason that at a date no more distant than November 7 the people of Missouri will have an opportunity to place the seal of their condemnation upon Judge Lamm and the campaign methods illustrated by the foregoing extracts.—St. Louis Republic.

RECEIVE IRON CROSS

FIVE GERMAN SOLDIERS DECORATED BY EMPEROR.

WERE FRENCH PRISONERS

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Headquarters of the German Army on the Western Front, Sept. 19.—Five German soldiers who fell into the hands of the French in the first days of the battle on the Somme, but escaped after several weeks of captivity and reached the German lines again, have been decorated with the Iron Cross by the emperor. They are Sergeant Klug, Corporal Orschel and Privates Behn, Hormann and Schuster.

With sixty comrades the men were captured in a German shelter which had been demolished by French shells. They were left in the smashed shelter under guard for two days without food and finally transported to a camp a few miles behind the French lines.

There an officer ordered them thrown into a large shell crater which had been transformed into an improvised prison.

In this hole they were exposed to the heavy rain and they had to sleep on the wet ground. A kindly French surgeon protested against their treatment and demanded straw for them, but bedding was refused by the officer in command. The French soldiers, who pitied the prisoners, tried to give them blankets, food and tobacco, but were threatened with severe punishment for this by their superiors.

The prisoners almost starved in this miserable hole, as most of the food furnished them was unfit for consumption. When they complained that soap had been thrown into their soup a French officer laughingly replied:

"That is our medicine for the Boches."

After three weeks of suffering the prisoners, in violation of international law were sent to the advanced French positions to dig trenches and the five escaped men, in an affidavit signed by them, swear that an officer of the French engineer corps told them:

"We are going to work and starve you until at least two of you die every day."

At their work the prisoners were continually exposed to the German shell fire, which killed several of them and wounded others. One dark night about twenty of the men made a dash for the German lines. They crept out of the trench dug by them and started to run across the field, but their flight was noticed by the French soldiers, who sent a hail of bullets after them.

Twelve of the fugitives were killed, but the remaining eight saved themselves by diving into shell craters, where they had to lay perfectly still for twenty-four hours.

The next night they crept up to the German wire entanglements, but a fusillade from the sentries greeted them and three more were killed before their comrades recognized them. Only Klug, Orschel, Behn, Hormann and Schuster reached the German trenches and the two latter were wounded.

The escaped prisoners have nothing but praise for the kindness of the French soldiers and surgeons, but they are very bitter against the enemy officers.

THE 1000 MARK SCOVILLE'S GOAL

A new song, "No Compromise," made a decided impression. Mrs. Scoville sang "A Child of the King" and upon Dr. Scoville's request probably thirty different men and women arose and said they are thankful for the revival the good weather, the musical director, the singing, Mrs. Scoville, the company of workers, the answered prayers, the interest of the children, and one old man said he is thankful that the evangelist talks loud enough so that he can hear.

Dr. Scoville showed a number of stereopticon slides of lepers in the far east and other interesting scenes at the close of the service.

REVIVAL NOTES.

Fourth Ward tonight, the Third made some showing last night.

Afternoon meetings at 2 o'clock every day this week started with the old folks meeting today.

"That's the finest looking crowd of ministers I have ever seen," said a man, not a church member, as he looked at Rev. Hale, Rex. Cox, Rev. Miller and Rev. Holliday.

Prayer was offered by Rev. C. H. Sauceman of Skidmore and Extension Secretary Lon D. Parker of the Scoville party last night.

Dr. Scoville likes the song service. He urged the singing of "He Surely Means Me" a dozen times. "That old song will set Maryville on fire," he said. "Everybody sing like a house afire."

Dr. Scoville and Musical Director Forsythe are trying to see who can wear the reddest tie, apparently. The evangelist wears some that can be heard for blocks, while Forsythe had on one last night that sounded like a circus band.

All the men members of the Scoville party attended the ball game yesterday and rooted for Maryville. Rev. R. U. Waldraven, Lon D. Parker, Dr. Scoville, Charles H. Forsythe and F. F. Miles, the five men, are dyed-in-the-wool baseball fans.

Business girls meeting with Mrs. Scoville at the Odd Fellows hall between the hours of 11:30 and 1 o'clock tomorrow.

The Men's league will hold its second weekly meeting at the First Baptist church tomorrow. Luncheon will be served by the women of the church. Further plans for the campaign will be laid. High school boys noonday luncheon and meeting will be held Friday noon, the place to be decided upon later.

Guests at Allan Home.

Mrs. Mary Innis and children, Virginia and Donald, of Nevada, arrived Saturday night to visit Mrs. Innis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Allan. Another daughter, Mrs. H. K. Ferrel, Mr. Ferrel and their daughter, Mary Katherine, of Faucett, are also guests at the Allan home, arriving yesterday in their car.

Republican Committee Meeting.

A meeting of the Republican county committee is being held this afternoon at the Republican headquarters over Reuillard's. Plans for the campaign were being discussed and especially means for raising money.

STARTS TOMORROW

BASEBALL TOURNAMENT HERE WITH FOUR TEAMS.

FEDS EXPECT TO WIN FLAG

Tarkio, Stanberry, Albany and Maryville Are Entered—Classy Games Are Promised.

The baseball tournament begins tomorrow afternoon, when Dr. Scoville throws out the first ball at 1:30 o'clock. Clarinda and Tarkio have gone together and will be known as the Tarkio team. The Maryville Feds and Tarkio will play the first game tomorrow afternoon. Albany and Stanberry will play the second game at 3:30 o'clock. On Thursday the winners of the games tomorrow will play and the losers will battle each other. On Friday, the teams that haven't played each other yet will play.

"Ick" McGinnis, an old Western league umpire, will umpire the tournament here and there will be no chance to "kick" about partiality. McGinnis is a veteran at the game and knows the rules.

Stanberry will have Otto Williams, a St. Joseph Drummer shortstop, Eddie Noyes of the Galveston team in the Texas league, and Yaryan, a star pitcher of the Central association. Tarkio is of unknown strength except that they have one of the best catchers in the game in Withrow, who has played in the major leagues. A few surprises are expected with the Tarkio team. Albany will have their usual strong line-up with the probable addition of two or three new league players. Grant will pitch the first game for the Feds and "Jeff" Thieman will twirl for the Feds on Thursday. In case that Grant is not able to pitch again Friday Hansen will do the mound work for the Feds that day. These are three of the classiest twirlers that have been playing in this section this season, and the Feds are confident of keeping the flag in Maryville.

An effort will be made to have the stores close from 2 o'clock to 5 o'clock Thursday and Friday afternoons.

BULLETS DIDN'T STOP HIM.

Lead Fired Into Lewis' Body Made No Impression.

Baltimore.—Bullets make no impression upon Nathan Lewis of 1204 McElderry street, according to his evidence in the criminal court, where he was a star witness against William Edwards, charged with assault with intent to murder and carrying a deadly weapon.

Lewis and Edwards had an argument. Edwards procured a revolver and shot at Lewis. One bullet struck Lewis in the arm, but he merely plucked it out and threw it away. The second bullet went through Lewis' mouth while he was smiling over the failure of the first shot to do him injury, and it did nothing more than loosen one of his teeth.

He spat the leaden pellet out and was proceeding to use his fists on Edwards when the pair were separated.

Harry B. Walf pleaded self defense for his client, and Judge Stump gave him the benefit of the doubt and dismissed the case.

NICKELS BUY A MOTORCAR.

Minneapolis Man Saved Bison Branded Coins For Three Years.

Minneapolis.—N. M. Carlson owns the first genuine jitney car in Minneapolis. He acquired it a few days ago. No, he isn't going to haul passengers in it. It's a jitney car because he bought it with jitneys—and buffalo jitneys at that.

Carlson had long yearned for a motorcar. Three years ago he began saving buffalo nickels and sequestering them in a motorcar fund.

Every time he got one of the bison branded coins in change he carefully laid it aside. Slowly the hoard grew until it reached a total of $461.45, the sum the motorcar people demanded for the flivver upon which the engineer's heart was set.

The deal was made, and Carlson handed his 9,229 buffalo nickels over to the Minneapolis manager of the flivver company and drove away in his shiny new car, the first real jitney car owned in Minneapolis or anywhere else.

THREE TOED HORSE FOSSIL.

Professor Says Animal Grazed In Nevada 3,000,000 Years Ago.

Reno, Nev.—A well preserved set of teeth and jawbone of an animal which Professor J. C. Jones of the State university declares were the property of a three toed horse of the upper miocene age have been unearthed in the Washoe valley, on the Pedroli ranch, by university engineers.

Professor Jones says the horse probably roamed the wilds of Nevada some 3,000,000 years ago.

He says the horses of that date were even smaller than the Shetlands of the present day, and are classified as the eohippus. The specimens were found in a well which apparently penetrated a prehistoric lake bed. Teeth of mammoths, fossil leaves and other specimens of prehistoric ages have been found in wells on the Pedroli ranch. They are among the best in the fossil collection at the university, as they show clearly the age and classification to which they belong.

VANDERSLOOT MAKING GOOD

Maryville Boy, Teacher of Manual Training at St. Joseph, Receives Favorable Comment.

The St. Joseph News-Press has the following to say about Fred E. Vandersloot, the Maryville young man who was recently elected teacher of manual training at the Benton high school at St. Joseph.

"Fred E. Vandersloot, the new manual training supervisor at Benton high school, who succeeds Harry C. Billman, resigned, is organizing his classes and arranging the work of the department for the term. Vandersloot is a graduate of the Maryville high school, has had a four-year course at the Northwest State Normal school, and will receive his B. S. degree from that institution next summer. He specialized in manual arts and athletics in both high school and normal, was captain of the Maryville high school basketball team, served two seasons as captain of the State Normal five, where he was awarded four letters in basketball and baseball. Before his removal seven years ago to Maryville from Fort Morgan, Col., he played on high school basketball and football teams.

He comes highly recommended as a proficient manual trainer and track athlete, and should be a valuable acquisition to the Benton faculty."

FELL UNCONSCIOUS

WELL KNOWN MISSOURI LADY WAS NOT SAFE WHEN LEFT ALONE.

Dr. Drake, a St. Joseph Specialist, Reports a Remarkable Nearby Case.

A prominent Maitland, Mo., lady was supposed to have heart trouble in a dangerous form. She would fall over in an unconscious condition and was at no time safe to be left alone. She was taken to a medical scientist, whose laboratories are now located in St. Joseph, where he is winning much renown for his remarkable work in the healing art. The specialist found the trouble due, not to heart trouble, as was thought, but to indigestion, with gas pressure, and by applying the proper treatment to the real cause they were able to relieve Mrs. Blazier from an affliction, which had ruined her life for years. She might have taken "heart tablets" until her death without relief, for the trouble was not in her heart at all. This proves how important it is when there is anything the matter with you, to have a thorough examination made by a competent specialist, who alone can determine the underlying cause of your difficulty.

Mrs. Blazier tells about her remarkable cure in the following letter written for publication, in the hope that it may benefit some other sufferer:

Maitland, Mo.

"For several years I was in such bad condition that I was not safe to be left alone at any time, as I had spells so severe that I would fall unconscious. I could never lay on my left side and never ate a meal that agreed with me. I certainly was in a bad condition and had about given up hopes of relief when I was induced to go to Dr. Drake and assistants for examination. I am very glad I went under their treatment, for I had not taken it but a short time until I began to get relief, and now I am practically cured of that awful trouble. These specialists certainly have a wonderful treatment for stomach and digestive trouble and I am glad to recommend them to any other sufferer.

"MRS. E. J. BLAZIER.

By first finding the real cause of disease by modern methods of laboratory diagnosis, then the application of the Dr. Drake direct methods, remarkably quick results are obtained in chronic diseases, which has caused much comment throughout the country since Dr. Drake announced his discoveries and methods a few years ago. The doctors' offices and laboratories are now located in St. Joseph, 716½ Felix street.

Like many men of deep thought, Dr. Drake has his eccentricities, and one of his peculiarities is that he refuses to take any fee for consultation and examination. He wishes to throw his work open to the world and extend his power for doing good as far as possible; therefore, he wants no stumbling blocks put in the way of people who wish to come to him. He wants every sick person to be able to find out whether their ailment is curable or not before spending any money on their case. He thinks the sick are entitled to this consideration, and says that as long as he has strength for his work no sick person can ever pay him a cent for an examination. If found curable the cost of treatment is kept very low, covering cost of medicines and appliances used, so that all, rich or poor, may have the benefit of the best.
